USS
Inchon
LPH-12

Commanding Officer

CAPT R.W. KENNEDY U.S. NAVY

Captain Kennedy confers with his predecessor, Captain J. J. McNally, at the change of command.

COMMANDING OFFICER

Captain Kennedy touches the flight deck to clear an AV-8A Harrier for take-off during carrier qualifications in Spring, 1977.

Captain Ronald W. Kennedy, USN, a native of Long Beach CA, assumed command of the USS INCHON in June, 1976 at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard. Captain Kennedy had previously served with various anti-submarine squadrons and air group staffs and has served a number of tours in Washington in strategic plans divisions of OPNAV. Prior to coming to INCHON, Captain Kennedy commanded the USS PAUL REVERE.

Executive Officer

CDR D.D. BLOOM,
USN

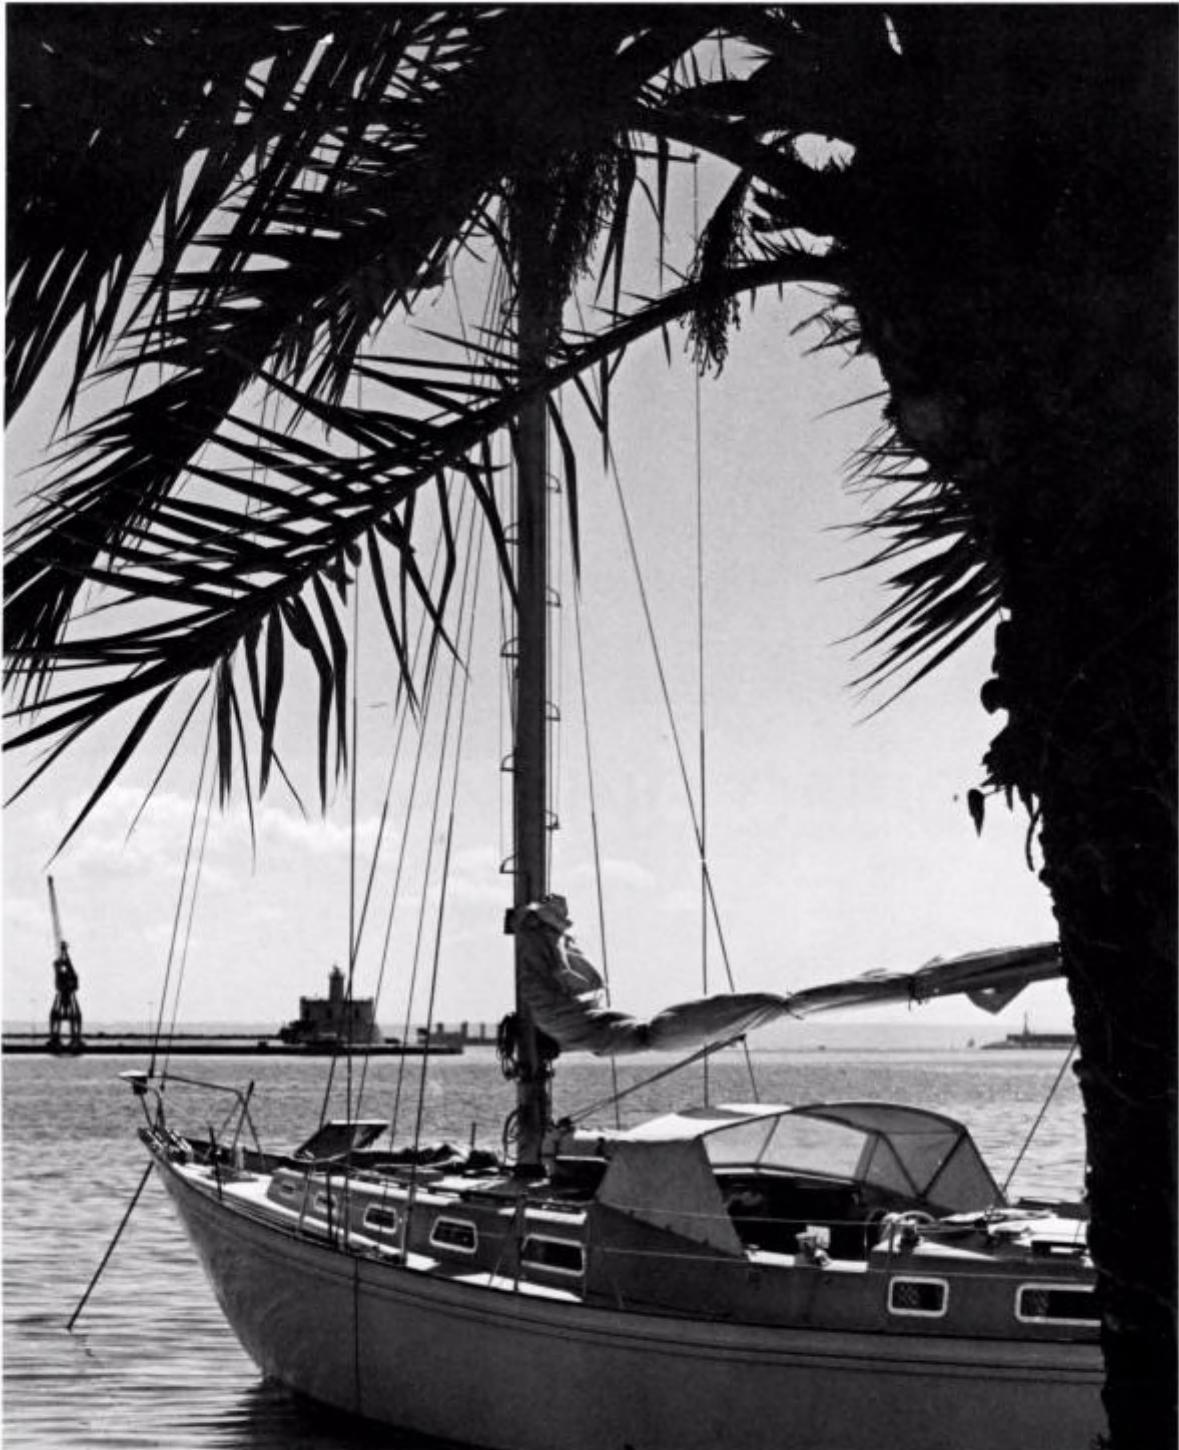

CDR Bloom served as Executive Officer of the INCHON during the cruise up until September, 1977, when he was detailed to Nuclear Weapons Training Group, Atlantic. CDR Bloom's career involved service with anti-submarine squadrons and staffs and command of a training squadron ashore.

CDR M.W.
PARSONS, USN

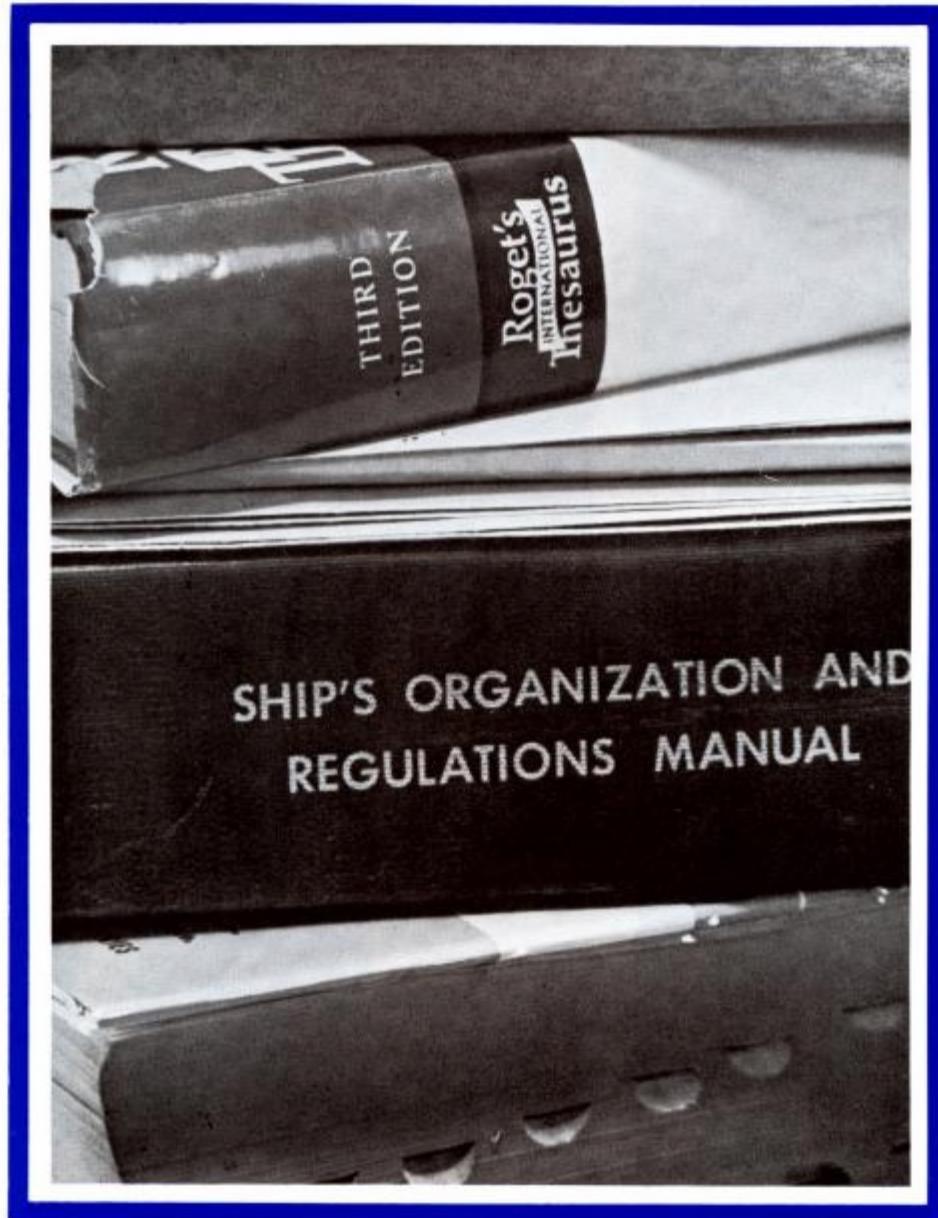

CDR Parsons relieved as Executive Officer in Rota, Spain, in September, 1977. He jumped right into the fire with the ship as INCHON prepared to commence the "Display-Determination" Exercise. Commander Parsons comes to the INCHON from duty at the United States Naval Academy.

Getting it Together

“GETTING IT TOGETHER”

Norfolk Naval Shipyard June 76 – Nov. 76

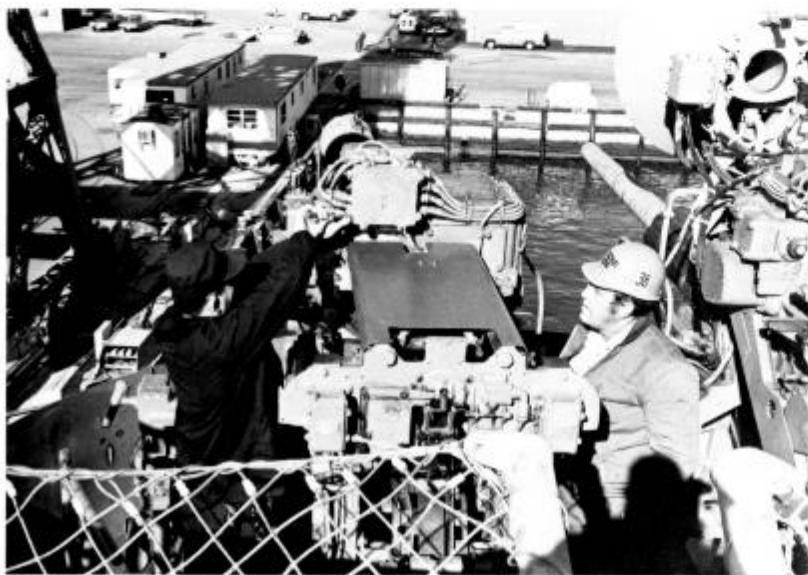

NORFOLK NAVAL SHIPYARD JUNE 76 - NOV. 76

INCHON went into the yards after six long, hard years of service. She was broken down into several million pieces cleaned up, and repaired. Countless man-hours and millions of dollars went into this first overhaul in addition to the blood and sweat of the men who had to work the gear. This section depicts some of the hard work involved.

"I don't think we'll ever get this together again!"

"CLEAN
UP,
FIX UP,
PAINT
UP!"

"The Boatswain was wrong, there's no termites up in this overhang!"

The loading of ammunition is a dangerous evolution, especially on a naval vessel. This particular ammo loadout was done in freezing weather and during a blizzard in the middle of Hampton Roads.

Med Cruise

Med Cruise

After loading almost a six-month supply of stores in Norfolk, INCHON proceeded to Morehead City, NC, to take on the Marines. We seemed to have loaded them in record time; men, vehicles, and gear. INCHON's population almost quadrupled. With everything aboard, we headed for the MED and took our first "drink" from an oiler in late April. We wouldn't see our families from 19 April to 26 October, 1977. Our adventure had begun.

France

FRANCE

The first stop along the way was in Rota, Spain, but the first liberty port inside the MED was Toulon, France. We spent ten days there and after that city had been toured to its maximum, our men branched out to visit the French countryside. During this time, it was possible to see the Grand Prix de Monaco at Monte Carlo. In all, INCHON crew and marines pulled liberty in France, Italy and Spain during the six months they were deployed.

THE GREEN MACHINE

"Just wait, we're gonna eat fresh meat tonight!"

Before leaving on our trip to the MED, we embarked air and land units of the U.S. Marine Corps. Providing our helicopter services was HMM-261 and our ground forces came from the 6th Regiment of the 2nd Marine Division. Also, INCHON embarked the 1st Amphibious Assault Group of the Royal Dutch Marines, prior to Operation Dawn Patrol. INCHON embarked or hosted troops from almost every NATO country.

Dutch Marines await embarkation at Toulon, France, before Dawn Patrol.

A Dutch NCO gives instruction on a NATO weapon to American Marines in the field.

...All Work and No Play?

... ALL WORK AND NO PLAY?

ENS Watters moves in for a better punch during one of the bouts in the boxing smoker.

The tap-off starts another game in the INCHON Summer Basketball Tournament.

Athletics assumes an important role on INCHON while she is deployed. This serves to foster physical fitness, competition, and comradeship. Also, it is an excellent way to let off steam that has built up during an at-sea period. The frenzied activity shown here is only part of the whole story.

The ruins of the ancient city of Pompeii near Naples, have fascinated tourist for years. The city was buried under hot volcanic ash in 79 AD after an eruption from Mount Vesuvius. The structures of the city were well preserved and one can almost visualize the Romans walking about.

Homeward Bound

HOMEWARD BOUND!

The INCHON left Rota, Spain for the United States in mid-October, 1977, and on 13 October, we celebrated the 202nd Birthday of the U.S. Navy. The occasion was marked by the cutting of a cake by the oldest and youngest crewmembers. SM1 Moore of CS Division and SR Random of 1st Division did the honors, assisted by acting XO CDR Kirk and the Ship's Baker.

After unloading the marines in North Carolina, INCHON sponsored a dependent's cruise to Norfolk. Seen at left is Mr. James Hesler and Brian Hesler, the father and brother of LTJG Hesler.

The INCHON returned to a wet and windy Norfolk but the weather did not dampen the warm reception given by our families. After six months, Love was definitely having the INCHON home!
